

Nick Mayer
ArchePoint™

With an accomplished 35+ year record of restaurant business general management, Nick Mayer has provided long-term leadership, growth, innovation and profitable returns for independent operators and chain concepts comprised of both company and franchise divisions on a national platform. Since entering the restaurant business as a busboy during college, Nick came to embrace the importance of people oriented leadership, transparent communication and a “boots on the ground” operating philosophy. His primary accountability has always been to engender commitment at all levels, re-enforced with integrity and an upbeat, constructive attitude which results in motivated employees, a superior guest experience and satisfied stakeholders. Nick currently serves as CEO of a regional, fast casual pizza concept and on the advisory board of a real estate development and restaurant franchisee company.
